

India is a country of festivals.

Among them Diwali is the important festival.

It is heard that during today only Treta Yuga Lord Srirama following his fathers orders went to exile for 14 years in the forest and after killing king of the demons, Ravana he returned back to ayodhya along with Sita and Lakshmana.

Then the people of Ayodhya welcomed Lord ram by lighting many lamps.

Because of that this festival is known as dipavali.

This festival in Kartika month new moon day.

Some scholars say that Kartika month new moon day only Goddess Mahalakshmi came out frm the ocean.

Others are telling that – "During this day, Goddess Lakshmi was released from Mahabali, thats why people worship godess lakshmi".

On that day people clean their house and decorate the house, the decorated house looks like bride.

All the people wear new clothes.

During evening people light lamps and place in houses, temples and doors.

Then the group of lamps looks beautiful.

At night people worship godess Lakshmi.

People distribute sweets to their friends and relatives.

The second day morning they do Gowardana Pooja.

After that people have food in their neighbours house and give money how much ever possible.

Like that this festival gives happiness.

The message of this festival is that – let us destroy the darkness and ignorance and get light of knowledge.
